Reaching New Heights

MRC ANNUAL REPORT
Call me a glutton for punishment, but I caught a recent rant on MSNBC's Morning Joe. On set was the author of a book called, "White Rural Rage," which is nothing more than just the latest effort by the media to demean small-town America. Mika and her MSNBC crew were happy to oblige him.

Predictably, the author declared white rural voters to be the most racist, xenophobic, anti-immigrant, anti-gay of any voter demographic, filled with the most conspiracy theorists, election deniers, and COVID skeptics. He also spewed that white rural voters don’t believe in independent journalism or free speech, and not only are they white nationalists (insert eye-roll here), they are white Christian nationalists to boot. This guy made Hillary’s “basket of deplorables” sound kind by comparison. Not surprisingly, Mika nodded and laughed, lapsing up her guest’s every word.

Just two days after my morbid curiosity compelled me to watch "Morning Joe," there was a memorial service attended by hundreds, if not thousands, for Laken Riley, the 22-year-old nursing student abducted and killed while jogging around the University of Georgia campus.

Redacted from almost every initial mainstream press report was the fact that the suspected murderer was an illegal immigrant. This heinous act never should have happened but for Joe Biden’s token-free turnstile at the southern border. Her friends say Laken “put a smile on everyone’s face … defined by selflessness, grace, and determination.” Now she’s gone, a bright light extinguished because of the left’s lust for power, control, and hatred of this nation.

Of course, once the media had to admit the inconvenient truth regarding the immigration status of Laken’s alleged killer, they spent the week wringing their hands about the resulting “backlash” against illegal aliens and scoffing at Republicans for “seizing” on this tragedy — simply for calling for policy changes that could have prevented it.

Of course, there was no wall-to-wall media coverage of Laken’s funeral. No delegation of Biden administration officials to pay their respects. Nothing. But here’s something quite remarkable: Laken’s mother, Allyson, one of those small-town white Christians our nationally-televised author on MSNBC was complaining about, called her daughter’s death (rightly) “an avoidable tragedy.” But did she lash out with hate and vitriol? Did she call on the masses to march through the streets and destroy everything in their path to avenge her daughter’s death (a la George Floyd)? No, instead, she turned to a kindly figure detested by the Left, saying, “I would like to thank my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, for being with me and my family during this heartbreaking time. I encourage everyone to have a personal relationship with Jesus. I give Him all the glory for getting us through this.”

Friends, there are two distinct Americas in our country: one embodied by those like the MSNBC crowd who despise America, its heritage, and Judeo-Christian values, and the other by people like Laken Riley and her community in Woodstock, Georgia, who are dedicated, resilient, and forgiving.

At the Media Research Center, we combat the Left at every turn. We fight those who want to disparage us, ridicule us, try to bully us into submission, and destroy this nation from within. Throughout this annual report, you’ll find example after example of how we do this every day, our victories and triumphs battling for that “shining city upon a hill.”

The America Laken Riley deserved to grow up in.

Sincerely,

L. Brent Bozell III
Founder & President

42 Biden scandals ignored by the media. Kayleigh McEnany listed 11 of Conservative media heavily covered the five studies MRC released on the interference by Big Tech companies to meddle. Negate actions by media and Big Tech “TELL THE TRUTH” as well as representing the left’s strategy for achieving a one-party state: identified by MRC as the greatest threats to America’s well-being and success, Truth! 2024” campaign. This two-year initiative centered on three critical areas: This year, MRC, experts in countering the left’s tactics, launched the “Tell the story from the voting public. Our research at the time proved Trump would have won if not for this interference.

This year, MRC, experts in countering the left’s tactics, launched the “Tell the Truth” campaign. This two-year initiative centered on three critical areas identified by MRC as the greatest threats to America’s well-being and success, as well as representing the left’s strategy for achieving a one-party state:

PRIORITY ONE

Election Interference
Negate actions by media and Big Tech companies to meddle in U.S. elections.

PRIORITY TWO

Censorship
Fight to end the silencing of conservatives by social media platforms, leftist entities, and the Big Tech administration.

PRIORITY THREE

Anti-Americanism
Combat attempts by media and the cultural elites to tear down America’s history, heritage, traditions, and free enterprise system.

Bidenomics: Six Charts the Media Don’t Want You To See

Considering the importance of the economy to voters, remember Carroll’s quote, “It’s the economy, stupid,” the media spun “Bidenomics” as a success. MRC’s Craig Bannister debunked this narrative with hard data and graphics each month. In December, he summarized Biden’s 34-month tenure: gas prices (+42%), real median weekly wages (-$365), inflation (+5.7%), mortgage rates (+154%), savings rates (-70%), and prices (+17.2%). The monthly reports were some of MRC’s most-read articles.

MRC Catches Google Up to Its Old Election Meddling Tricks Again

Before each GOP debate, MRC searched “presidential campaign websites” on Google, but the search engine did not display a Republican candidate on its first page of results. Unsurprisingly, Joe Biden’s campaign website was always near the top of page one. On the studies, Sen. Ted Cruz posted: “This is ABSURD. Bland election interference.” As a result of MRC’s efforts, the National Legal and Policy Center, a shareholder of Google’s parent company Alphabet, requested an audit of Google for its censorship practices.

MRC published 664 stories related to Election Interference, generating 79.8 million impressions and 36.8 million video views.

MRC Exposes CNN for Spinning ‘Bidenomics’ as Sunshine and Rainbows

To Americans who see inflation going up and the economy going down, “Bidenomics” is a perjorative. However, an MRC review of CNN’s programming from June 17 to Aug. 7 found that 79% of the cable network’s “Bidenomics” coverage was positive. It used phrases such as “a lot to be proud of” and “a very, very strong job market” to spin Joe Biden’s disastrous economic policies positively.

Wikipedia Caught ‘Stealth Editing’ on Hunter Biden Entry

MRC broke the news nationally on Soros-funded Wikipedia’s role in protecting Joe Biden by blocking Americans from accessing politically damaging information tied to his son, Hunter. Wikipedia, the 7th most visited website in the U.S., allowed special consultants “hired” by Hunter Biden to manipulate the “Hunter Biden” page with “stealth edits.” Wikipedia stood idly by as entries tying Hunter to Joe’s bribery scandals were edited without attribution.

Networks Refuse to Link Biden and Inflation

In February, MRC released a nine-month study showing that the network’s only discussion for a paltry 542 minutes over that entire time and didn’t mention Joe Biden or his policies as the cause 84% of the time. Discussing the study on Fox News, Brent Bozell said, “When the nets do mention Biden, half the time it’s to praise him for trying to end inflation. It’s beyond shameless.”

“Trump will imprison, he will execute, drive from the country.”

JOE SCARBOROUGH
November 2023

MRC research found that when searching “presidential campaign websites,” GOP sites were buried on page two, where only 1% of users go.
Censorship and Election Interference
Go Hand In Hand

On Nov. 29, MRC released a groundbreaking study through Fox News, “Alarming Election Interference! Big Tech Censors Biden Opponents 162 Times.” The study revealed that the social media companies censored all the 2024 candidates at least once. Vivek Ramaswamy was censored the most, primarily on the left’s golden calf, climate change. MRC’s Dan Schneider and Brent Bozell were interviewed about the study on OAN and Fox Business, respectively, with Bozell saying “91% of the censorship came from Google/YouTube - same company.”

MRC Helps Ben Shapiro Remonetize his YouTube Channel

MRC helped score a victory for The Daily Wire and freedom of speech. Daily Wire Editor Emeritus Ben Shapiro credited MRC’s Free Speech America with successfully pressuring YouTube to restore monetization of a video from Shapiro’s new “Facts” series that cited MRC’s study on the leftist NewsGuard media ratings firm. Ben personally thanked MRC on his national podcast.

MRC Exposes NewsGuard for Leftist Bias

Newsmax Thanks MRC For Lending a Helping Hand

MRC released an extensive report detailing the blatant leftist political biases of AT&T Chairman William Kennard and his deep connection to DirecTV’s original de-platforming of both Newsmax and One America News from its streaming service. The report was so effective in helping Newsmax return to DirecTV that Newsmax CEO Christopher Ruddy contacted MRC to thank us for our reporting.

Congress Cites MRC Research to Go After Big Tech

In February, at a congressional hearing with former Twitter executives on censoring the Hunter Biden laptop story before the 2020 election, Rep. Pat Fallon pointed out that “The Media Research Center polled Democrat voters in 2020 swing states and found that 17% would have changed their vote if they had known the contents of the New York Post story.” Donald Trump also referenced the MRC poll during his Aug. 23 interview with Tucker Carlson.

CensorTrack

At MRC, we have an evidence locker. It’s called CensorTrack, and it contains documented cases of Big Tech’s censorship of conservatives, principally by Google, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, and TikTok.

CensorTrack supports MRC free speech studies and serves as a valuable resource for conservative lawmakers, leaders, and organizations in their efforts to combat Big Tech.

Despite the CEOs of these Silicon Valley companies denying bias against conservatives, in October, MRC recorded its 6,000th case of online censorship. The report was so effective in helping Newsmax return to DirecTV that Newsmax CEO Christopher Ruddy contacted MRC to thank us for our reporting.

In 2023, MRC’s research on censorship was so influential that four CensorTrack studies were entered into the Congressional Record.
In April 2023, MRC launched its Censorship Investigation Project (CIP) to document evidence that the Biden administration was collaborating with Big Tech, media and leftist entities to silence its political foes, specifically conservative Americans.

To tackle such a critical project, MRC assembled a team with a wealth of legal heft, including MRC’s Dan Schneider and Mike Morris, both lawyers, Tim Kilcullen, a legal fellow from the Antonin Scalia School of Law, two former U.S. attorneys general, and several former state attorneys general.

Using an array of investigative tools such as FOIA and state open records requests, forensic examinations, undercover operations, and on-the-record interviews, on May 26, the CIP team hit paydirt with the release of its first report, “How Biden’s DHS is Weaponizing an Anti-Terror Program Against Conservatives, Christians and The GOP.”

Released through a Fox News exclusive, the report documented how the Department of Homeland Security’s $40 million “Targeted Violence and Terrorism Prevention” (TVTP) grant program linked groups such as CBP, Breitbart, The Heritage Foundation, Fox News, PragerU, and the RNC with neo-Nazi militants, targeting them for harassment.

MRC sent the report to Congress and met directly with members of the Weaponization Committee and the DHS Appropriation Subcommittee to discuss our findings. Thanks to our work, the Biden administration has been stymied in its efforts to silence conservatives, even NBC News reported that we “have been overwhelmingly successful.”

In September, MRC released the first part of our second major CIP report on Ad Fontes, the creators of a “Media Bias Chart” that assesses the “reliability” and “bias” of news and information media entities. Yet, despite its claims of impartiality, Ad Fontes rates left-leaning outlets as twice as reliable as right-leaning outlets. The Media Bias Chart is being used to indoctrinate students into trusting leftist media and drive critical ad dollars away from conservative organizations. With over 350 FOIA submissions, this is just the tip of the iceberg. Stay tuned.

Media Protect Anti-Semitic ‘Squad’

The group of far-left lawmakers known as The Squad (e.g., Tlaib, Omar, Bush, etc.) seem to hate Israel just as much as America, and the networks are fine with it. MRC conducted a three-week study after Hamas terrorists attacked Israeli innocents on Oct. 7, 2023, and found that the Big Three networks, in 525 minutes of war coverage, gave radical pro-Hamas statements by Squad members precisely zero minutes.

MRC Videos Expose Pro-Palestinian Protesters and Media

MRC has had its cameras present at multiple Pro-Palestinian marches, questioning the participants and exposing them for their anti-Semitism and hate of Israel. From putting the ‘Queer Jews For Palestine’ on the spot to exposing the pro-Palestinian bias of the media, MRC has produced multiple videos and blogs that have attracted the attention of social media. MRC videos following the pro-Hamas media and marches garnered over 3 million views on social media alone.

Media Omit “Illegal” and “Democrat”

To bias a story, the media adeptly redact words that upset the leftist narrative. MRC found that in 114 minutes of airtime dedicated to Daniele Cavlante, who murdered his girlfriend in front of her children, the network newscasts never mentioned that Cavlante was an illegal alien. Also, in an eight-month study, MRC found that between 88.4% and 97.9% of the time, the networks failed to mention that Trump prosecutors were Democrats or appointed by Democrats.

AP Compromised on its Climate Change Coverage

MRC analyzed the Associated Press’s environmental reporting following news that the AP was awarded an $8 million grant from left-leaning foundations to cover environmental issues. MRC looked at 64 AP stories and found many woke climate terms repeatedly used to drum up fear-mongering on the left’s climate narratives. The Washington Examiner and Fox News Channel’s Media Buzz picked up the story, emphasizing how special interests now tainted the AP’s climate journalism.

Anti-Americanism is Infesting Investing

MRC broke the story that ESG giants were linked to the train disaster in East Palestine, Ohio. Mark Levin read the report live on his Feb. 16 show and praised our work. “I hadn’t known all this, and this is why we love our friends at MRC.” ESG standards harm America’s free market system by prioritizing green companies with “diverse” boardrooms over profits. MRC produced 96 stories and two explanatory videos on this subject, collecting 6.8 million social media impressions.

The Left Rewriting Reality for Kids

MRC covered the effort of woke censors to rewrite some of Roald Dahl’s classic children’s literature, reporting that the publisher of the beloved “Goosebumps” series made woke edits without consulting the author and that another publisher assigned “sensitivity readers” to flag “problematic” language in “Snow White” and “Cinderella.” MRC also reported on Disney’s live-action “Peter Pan” reboot, which replaced some of Neverland’s Lost Boys with girls and bombed at the box office.

MRC published 1,073 stories, studies, and videos related to anti-Americanism, generating 320 million impressions and 161 million video views.

“The Anti-CRT Policies are trying to erase black people, and a lot of black people wouldn’t mind some of that erasure, as long as that black person is Clarence Thomas.”

April 2023
If it’s about defunding the police, soft-on-crime DAs, open borders — anything damaging to America’s heritage, culture, economy — you can bet George Soros is behind it. For more than 12 years, MRC’s “Soros Project” has exposed the true and evil intentions of this man and now his even more radical son, Alex.

Our latest report, part three of our comprehensive study entitled “Propaganda Czar,” revealed George Soros’ connections to 250 global media organizations, including NPR, ProPublica and Wikipedia, and his ties — through board appointments and other means — to Lester Holt, Christiane Amanpour, Bloomberg News co-founder Matt Winkler, PolitiFact Editor-in-Chief Angie Drobnic Holan and others.

Media took notice. “A new report from the Media Research Center has exposed connections between billionaire liberal financier George Soros and 54 prominent media figures,” the New York Post’s story began.

In April, MRC released the exclusive report “In His Own Words,” which tracked radical statements made by Alex Soros on issues such as Roe v. Wade, Republicans, Donald Trump, the Biden administration’s chaotic withdrawal from Afghanistan, and court rulings against Big Tech censorship. A later report, “Meet the New Boss,” released through Fox News, explored the politicians and organizations Alex Soros supported before he took over for his father. He oversaw the Democracy PAC, through which the Soros’ provided $32 million to help leftist candidates in the 2022 midterms, sat on boards of radical leftist organizations that seek to overhaul global academia, and gave millions of his own money to leftist fringe groups, such as Global Witness.

Alex Soros is also well-known to world leaders. According to our research, he has met 43 of them and made more than 20 trips to the White House.

The good news, in theory, is that George Soros retired at age 93. The bad news is he turned over everything to his 37-year-old son, Alex, who says he is “more political” than his father and perhaps even more dedicated to funding leftist causes.

In 2023, on social media alone, MRC’s promotion of the Soros series generated an eye-popping 6,625,978 impressions.

MRC ONLINE IMPACT 2023
By The Numbers

The MRC reaches millions of people every day through traditional and social media. Appearance by MRC experts on national TV and at major news talk radio outlets, as well as the resharing of MRC stories and research by major news networks, websites, and social media influencers contributed significantly to the broad reach of the MRC.

What is Social Media Value?
Social Media Value estimates the cost of purchasing advertising to attain the same audience reach achieved through social media posts.
MRC is Everywhere, spreading the message far and wide.

MRC produces an immense amount of content daily, including studies, investigative reports, blogs, stories, and videos. With a proven track record of accurate and reliable news and information over our 36-year history, our unique expertise is sought after by the top conservative outlets in the nation.

In 2023, MRC staff made 346 appearances on national TV news networks and 1,183 on local and nationally syndicated radio, and our content was picked up or reprinted by TV, print and digital news outlets, all of which expands our reach.

For example, when Brent Bozell appears on Fox News, MRC is exposed to a large audience. Fox News has been the No. 1 cable news network for 23 years in a row, averaging roughly 2.8 million viewers daily. It’s like a free commercial for the MRC!
Leading the Conservative Movement

Since 1987, MRC’s proactive approach to combating leftist media bias has established it as a leader in the conservative movement, bringing issues such as media bias, Big Tech censorship, election interference, and media/government collusion into the national spotlight.

Under the guidance of VP Dan Schneider and External Affairs Manager Daisy Judge, MRC strategically connects with conservative leaders, lawmakers, and organizations and leads the 130-member Free Speech Alliance to ensure a significant and far-reaching impact.

In May, MRC President Brent Bozell and Dan Schneider met with Reps. Dan Bishop, Mark Green, and Andy Biggs of the Weaponization Committee, as well as with members of the Committee on Homeland Security and the DHS Appropriations Subcommittee, as a follow-up to MRC’s investigative report on the DHS weaponizing an anti-terror program against conservatives and Christians.

MRC helped Mike Johnson and others prepare to interrogate DHS Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas about the DHS scheme to indoctrinate students to be leftist activists with Reps. Harriet Hageman and Mark Green. As part of an MRC initiative to expose PBS for its left-wing bias, meetings were held with the Parents Television Council and Rep. Doug Lamborn, who introduced legislation to defund PBS.

MRC was a major player at the Conservative Political Action Conference in D.C., where Brent Bozell spoke on the main stage alongside Larry O’Connor, Chaya Raichik, and Kurt Schlichter about media bias. Dan Schneider led a panel with Florida AG Ashley Moody, Sen. Mike Braun, and Truth Social CEO Devin Nunes to discuss Big Tech censorship.

MRC also helped organize conservative support for Israel, which included a call from Brent Bozell to the Israeli Embassy and a letter to corporations in Chicago urging them to reject Black Lives Matter and its antisemitic statements.

Social CEO Devin Nunes to discuss Big Tech censorship.

At the State Policy Network Conference, MRC joined state-based groups, exchanging legislative ideas to tackle tech censorship.

Our leadership role also means top players in the movement eagerly accepted our invitations to take part in video chats with Brent Bozell, who interviewed Gov. Ron DeSantis, Twitter Files author Matt Taibbi, Vivek Ramaswamy, Sen. Marsha Blackburn, investigative reporter Peter Schweizer and TV host Mark Levin on topics ranging from ESG to online censorship. The videos averaged 500,000 views each.

Dan Schneider launched a new video show, “MRC Uncensored,” on Big Tech matters, interviewing Babylon Bee’s Seth Dillon, Libs of TikTok’s Chaya Raichik, New York Post’s Miranda Devine, and Breitbart’s Emma-Jo Morris.

"It is stunning, and we are so appreciative of the great work that you do at Media Research Center, and you’re going to be invaluable as you always are, but especially in this election cycle."

— LARRY O’CONNOR, “O’CONNOR & CO.” RADIO SHOW

As part of the James P. Jimirro Media Impact Series, Dan Schneider participated in a program titled “Social Media and the Public Square: Balanced or Biased?” at the Paley Center in New York on Oct. 3. Engaging in a lively debate, Dan took on representatives from Newsweek, CNN, and Facebook.

Here are some of the 130 groups that stand with MRC for free speech.

Defending the People of Israel

On Oct. 7, Hamas terrorists brutally massacred innocent Israeli citizens who were enjoying a music festival.

Despite the brutality, it didn’t take long for the media to take sides. MRC’s Curtis Houck wrote, “CNN Tries to Equivocate Hamas Slaughter, Blames Israel for No Gaza,” and MRC’s Geoff Dickens blogged, “AWFUL! Nine Times Media Sympathized with Hamas Terrorists.”

But this is nothing new from the anti-Israel, anti-American press. MRC’s Bill D’Agostino, utilizing MRC’s world’s largest TV news archive, compiled a composite video dating to 2014, “Worst of the Media’s Decades-Long, Antisemitic Hamas PR Campaign,” viewed over 881,000 times.

MRC also pointed out how some in the leftist media avoided calling Hamas “terrorists,” favoring “militants” so as to not offend. In November, an MRC study showed in the first 30 days of the war, the networks used Hamas spokesman or Hamas-controlled entities as source material in at least 66% of their stories, including the false allegation that IDF missiles targeted a Gaza hospital.

MRC broke the news nationally that George Soros contributed $550,000 to a pro-Hamas organization, Al-Shabaka. MRC also unearthed a long-forgotten 2007 Soros op-ed, “America and Israel Must Open the Door to Hamas.” MRC’s reporting prompted investigations by The New York Post and Washington Examiner into Soros’ ties with pro-Hamas groups.

MRC wholeheartedly supports Israel and its right to self-defense. Israeli flags adorn our social media posts and websites, while appeals from Brent Bozell and Julie Strauss Levin urged MRC supporters to contribute to Israeli causes.

From Oct. 7 to Dec. 31, MRC’s Israel-Hamas stories posted on social media resulted in 24,090,851 impressions and 15,508,924 views.

“Last night, I asserted that this report indicated that babies were beheaded. This was an overstatement. I should have said that the report established that babies were found headless.”

Reaching Young Audiences

With American universities functioning as brainwashing factories, complete with, as MRC revealed, government-funded programs designed to turn K-12 students into left-wing activists, MRC must counteract their influence by reaching Gen Z and Millennials with conservative messages.

Videos have become the go-to medium for the younger generation, making the success of our video content vital for engaging wider audiences.

MRC strategically reaches the 18-34 group through popular social media platforms like Facebook, Rumble, Instagram, YouTube, and Twitter/X, to which 53% of the audience belongs. Videos have a 95% message retention rate, surpassing text, and are 12 times more likely to be shared (go viral), expanding MRC’s reach.

In an election meddling scheme, the media play hide and seek with Joe Biden’s blunders and controversies, so MRC fills the gaps. A video montage of Biden’s gaffes, spills, and meandering moments generated 1 million views online.

While cultural Marxists force a pro-LGBTQ/trans agenda on Americans, MRC counters by highlighting the absurdity of it. MRC’s “Woke of the Weak” video showed May 9, “The Adult ‘Gay Baby’,” A Trans Kitty Cat & “The Loud Shrieking Of The Left!” picked up 711,000 views, and a video titled “The End of Single Sex Bathrooms! Woke Moves from the Left” garnered 1.2 million.

Sports-related videos proved very popular on Instagram, particularly among the 13-24 age group, with “Aaron Rodgers & The Dallas Warrior” (6 million views), followed by “Bus Won’t Stop For Just Stop Oil Protestors” and “Deranged TikToker Assaults Sleeping Man,” both with 3 million views. MRC’s new state-of-the-art studio with upgraded cameras and editing software now produces video content in crystal-clear 4K resolution, appealing to the visually oriented younger demographic who get most of their news and information from social media.

Training Tomorrow’s Leaders

Since 1992, MRC’s Internship Program has educated and trained more than 500 college students to recognize media bias, practice balanced journalism, and enter professional media and public policy positions in the conservative movement.

In 2023, MRC’s national reputation for excellence brought 27 young interns from around the country to receive mentorship from our experts in journalism, graphic design, media analysis, research, social media, marketing, and fundraising. Together, they wrote 583 articles, which generated over 428,000 website views.

The MRC internship program is a gateway to the conservative movement. In 2023, graduating interns secured full-time positions at the Heritage Foundation, The Daily Wire, The Dallas Express, Independent Women’s Forum, FBN, Leadership Institute, and MRC. Notably, 40% of our staff are intern alums.

MRC videos were viewed an eye-popping 478 million times in 2023, doubling viewership from 2022. MRC videos feature a combination of original commentaries, man-on-the-street interviews, news clips, and satire.

Topping the charts in 2023 with the under-34 group was “Delta Employee Gives Perfect Response To Pronoun Warrior” (6 million views), followed by “Bus Won’t Stop For Just Stop Oil Protestors” and “Deranged TikToker Assaults Sleeping Man,” both with 3 million views. Sports-related videos proved very popular on Instagram, particularly among the 13-24 age group, with “Aaron Rodgers Hilariously Claps Back at Keith Olbermann” and “Modern’s ‘Shot of The Day’ Goes to Famously Unvaxxed Tennis Star Novak Djokovic” collectively amassing 2.3 million views.

Our fall intern class visited Fox News headquarters for a tour.

MRC interns had the opportunity to attend CPAC in National Harbor, MD. They wrote blogs on select speeches, assisted with the MRC booth and networked with fellow conservative activists.
In a bygone era, the AP’s Joe Rosenthal received a Pulitzer for his capture of the Marines hoisting the American flag on Mount Suribachi in Iwo Jima. Sadly, today’s media would deem the photograph too “nationalistic” to be recognized. Instead, they look to honor journalism rife with anti-American sentiment or some left-wing “(fill-in-the-blank) justice” cause. Since the media tilt left, so do the accolades they bestow upon themselves.

To counter the skewed nature of the Pulitzers, MRC established the Bulldog Awards to honor true journalists who richly deserve accolades yet will never receive them from the leftist media establishment. On May 9th, the 2nd annual Bulldog Awards were announced, with MRC President Brent Bozell saying, “The Bulldog Award winners are trusted truth-tellers, unlike left-wing operatives who win Pulitzers. These are courageous individuals dedicated to informing Americans about stories the leftist media ignore. Congratulations to all!”

2023 BULLDOG AWARD WINNERS
Ingrid Rose doesn’t suffer fools gladly, especially those of the progressive persuasion. “Anything coming from the left… it’s not worth a second thought. They are degrading this country into mediocrity.”

Born in Germany during World War II, she has come to recognize totalitarianism when she sees it – and she is seeing it. “National socialists had control over the individual,” she said of her childhood experiences. “How is that different from today in the U.S.?”

That’s why Rose supports the Media Research Center and other conservative organizations and is among the growing number of patriotic Americans who leave bequests to the MRC. They know every generation must preserve freedom, and it is up to her and others of her generation to recognize the dangers and provide for a future free of authoritarian government.

Ingrid Rose supports the MRC today and with a future bequest, which includes her valuable rare book collection.

Rose arrived in Michigan as an exchange student in 1958. For the next 20 years, she worked for the European Community, a precursor to the EU. When her husband’s job prompted a relocation to Poland in 1978, she made her business to become a U.S. citizen before she left. So she knows what it was like behind the iron Curtain and speaks with authority of the parallels between Joe Biden and Neville Chamberlain. “Megalomaniacs in countries like Russia, China, and Iran lie in wait for a weak U.S. leader” and make their move, she said.

When she returned to the U.S. in 1981, she witnessed Morning in America. Ronald Reagan’s optimistic vision and pro-business principles ignited an American resurgence, inspiring her to become a Republican, start her own business as a “paper conservator” – restoring old books, lithographs, and such – and chase the American dream.

Ingrid says, “I am an American citizen living, working, and functioning by the Constitution and the Ten Commandments” who supports MRC because it is “part of the constitutional conservative entities fighting for what’s right, a civil society.”

She says, “Government and the tech sector are inseparable, now determining what we can and cannot say,” and applauds what she calls the critical role that MRC plays in protecting free speech from Big Tech censorship.

Ingrid enjoys art, music, and swimming, but her true passion is her rare book collection “43 intense years in the making,” a portion of which she is donating to MRC in memory of her late husband, Milton Rose.

Her advice to the younger generation, “Try putting down your smartphones and picking up a few good books!” Ingrid has witnessed the dark past of totalitarianism and the bright future of Reagan’s shining city on a hill. She knows better than most the importance of preserving freedom for future generations.

Testimonials

- President Donald Trump
  "According to Media Research Center, 89% of the media's coverage of our administration has been negative and purposefully negative."

- Mark Levin
  "This is a fantastic organization. These guys produce every day. I don't know what we would do without MRC."

- Sen. Ted Cruz
  "Thanks to the truth-tellers at MRC NewsBusters, liberal journalists no longer have a stranglehold on information."

- Rush Limbaugh
  "Brent Bozell and the MRC provide a most precious commodity — a quest for the truth. I can't possibly expose every example of bias and error that emanates from the national mainstream media, but Bozell and his group come as close as anyone can. MRC is a vital national interest."

- Kayleigh McEnany
  "I love MRC NewsBusters, Media Research Center, one of my top go-to sources. I'm so glad you exist. It's awesome. Love you guys."

- Tom Fitton
  "The MRC is an essential resource. Liberals have argued that media bias is in the eyes of the beholder, not true. Media bias is factual and can be documented."

- Former Gov. Mike Huckabee
  "I'm so grateful for the Media Research Center. We owe them a debt of gratitude."

- Laura Ingraham
  "It takes a huge effort and phenomenal team to do what MRC does on a daily basis."

- Sen. Mike Lee
  "MRC has been holding the media accountable for Left-wing bias and selective reporting. They are an important resource for the country and are making a significant impact."

- DAN BONGINO
  "The Media Research Center, Brent Bozell’s group — you guys are fantastic!"
“I said I’d cure cancer they looked at me like, why cancer? Because we can. We ended cancer as we know it.”
